Early Childhood Education Collaboration

The long-term health and welfare of a community is directly tied to the health and welfare of its children. Those who are Strong, Prepared And Ready for Kindergarten (SPARK) have a significantly greater chance for success in school and life. That's why Fox Valley United Way is committing our resources to promoting equitable and positive early childhood experiences. The impact of our SPARK program has proven that to advance the common good, we need to ensure that area families and children have what they need to succeed.

Our Strategy: As part of our vision of a community where all children have a strong foundation for success in school and life our approach includes health, education, and financial stability. To achieve this goal we partner with and support organizations in our community that provide equitable education opportunities for local families.

Studies show that children who enter kindergarten without early social, math and literacy skills will likely remain behind their peers throughout their education. For this reason, Fox Valley United Way is committing all of its resources to promoting positive early childhood outcomes for young children through the following strategies:

- Raising public awareness about the crucial importance of early learning
- Grant Making to programs that support positive outcomes for children birth to five years old
- Supporting communities to convene local stakeholders to identify gaps in early childhood and to develop strategies to strengthen the community's early childhood landscape
- Providing assistance to parents helping them navigate the complex early childhood system of resources through our Gateways to Early Childhood Program.
